Bill No. 9 of 1961

THE CONSTITUTION (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1961 (As Introduced in Lok Sabha)

A BILL

further to amend the Constitution of India

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Twelfth year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 1961.

2. Amendment of Article 226.—In article 226 of the Constitution, in clause (1), the following proviso shall be added at the end, namely:—

“Provided that nothing in this article shall be deemed to preclude a High Court within whose jurisdiction any cause of action arises from issuing to the Government of India any such direction, order or writ merely on the ground that the seat of that Government is not within the territories in relation to which the High Court exercises jurisdiction.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Under several decision of the Supreme Court, it has been held that any High Court other than the High Court of Punjab cannot issue any direction order or writ under Article 226 of the Constitution to the Government of India because the seat of the Government of India is not located within the jurisdiction of that High Court. This causes unnecessary hardship to various persons to proceed against the Government of India under that article, even if they have a just grievance. The Law Commission has recommended the removal of this anomaly. Hence this Bill.

NEW DELHI;

The 24th February, 1961.

C. R. PATTABHI RAMAN.
